OMAHA CITY COUNCIL – District 6 Page 1 of 2, Part 2 of 2

Question	Franklin Thompson (Republican)
Contact Info	Date Filed: 2-04-13. 3/2/2013, 9:27pm, resident of district caller assigned; 3/6/2013, left phone message at office; 3/7/2013, left phone message with treasurer; 3/8/2013, Evening, candidate returned call; 3/8/2013, Evening, emailed questionnaire; 3/10/2013, Noon, sent report of extending to March 14 deadline 3/14/2013, 6:13pm, reminder email asking for 3/14/13 deadline; 3/17/2013, 6:06pm, ANSWERS RECEIVED.
01 Biographical	-Married to Beverly with 4 kids (Kelly, Ivy, Franque, Jasmine) - Member of Life Gate (Trinity) Church - Education: HS Tech High '72, BS UN Lincoln '77, MS UN Omaha, Ed.S University of So. Mississippi '93, Ed.D. UN Omaha '97. I served 35 years as an educator: Burke HS, Creighton Prep HS, Blackburn Alternative School, UNO College of Education (current).
02 Motivation	- Initially back in 2001, it was students at UNO who felt I needed to get my message out further than the 4 classroom walls. This time (2013) the reason is to address unfinished business. - Balance the budget, get union contracts under control, and bring fiscal stability to the city.
03 Qualifications	- I am a proven incumbent with a strong voting record. - I serve BOTH my district and the whole city. - I am a collaborator who knows how to work across party lines.
04 Sustainable Development	I like the overall philosophy behind being more sensitive to the environment. Yes, our behavior MUST change. It is an inevitable reality that even the staunchest conservative cannot deny. There are parts of the debate that have become unnecessarily politicized, however. If the moderates within the movement take control of the leadership, we can make some progress. If the radicals take the leadership, it will be a long struggle.
05 City Resources	-Do more with less. Yes, this is doable. It is not just a campaign slogan. There are excesses and imbalances that need to be addressed. - Invest in our children without unnecessary duplication. - Fund and promote educational and job training efforts. (Note: your last question is not totally clear).
06 Animals	Pit bull regulation, but we seem to have gained a handle on this problem as of late. A possible feral cat issue that hasn't turned into a big problem yet.
07 Illegal Immigration	This is a state and federal issue. The city does not have jurisdiction.
08 Eminent Domain	Unfortunately, the mayor and council are within their rights to do this. We must ensure, however, that there is a strict definition of the "public good" and that compensation is fair and accurate. Sometimes citizens are not given the fair market value they deserve.
09 Crime	I believe in a five-fold plan: [1] An "ecological" approach that involves more than just police and schools. We need multiple agencies coming together at once in a crescendo to stem the tide of rising violence. Churches are curiously silent. [2] We need to step up out prevention and education efforts. [3] We need to have better programs that seek to rehabilitate. [4] We need options other than jail time. I have always liked a military duty option for those not deemed as hard-core criminals. [5] We must do a better job of empowering young people to speak to and work with other young people. When adults talk, they ignore us. When kids talk to kids, they listen. When enough of them say "enough is enough," then the problem will decrease dramatically.
10 Jobs	Research shows that jobs moving out to the suburbs and robots/computers replacing humans in factories has been a leading cause of inner-city unemployment. The Chamber of Commerce should convene a think tank of stakeholders and address this issue. There are things that can be done. Not all students were meant to go to college. The closing of Tech HS in 1984 and subsequent downgrading of the trades at South HS has greatly added to East Omaha's employment and training problem.
11 Representative Government	The current strong mayor form of government that we have handcuffs the council from having much administrative impact. We can exercise control with legislation and budgeting, but the day-to-day running of the government and the doling out of funds is under the purview of the mayor. Recently, the council took back from the mayor the power to negotiate union contracts, but that should only be an emergency move. Under normal conditions, it is easier (and better) for one person to negotiate for the city instead of seven. Still, I wish council reps had more authority to hand out pink slips for not properly doing things such as snow removal. It's frustrating for council reps to take the heat for things that the mayor and his cabinet have ultimate control over.
12 City Business Connection	N/A
13 Homosexual Ordinance-Omaha	In its current form, I would vote "No". I make no promises, but I might be willing to entertain an upgraded ordinance that is written better than the one we currently have.
14 Governing documents	At this level, the City Charter, City Code, and the State Constitution are the main documents. The National Constitution is a supporting document. Sometimes the will of your constituents have to be set aside to address the needs of (a) the whole city, and (b) disempowered populations.
15 Constituents' concerns	Attend neighborhood meetings and forums;. Return all calls and emails. Have an open-door policy. Truly honor the public hearing process. Resist making your decision behind closed doors and just using the public hearing as a "dog and pony" show.
16 Family	My family is 100% behind this. They help me campaign.
19 DOMA	I believe that the legal definition of marriage should be between a man and a woman.

Question	Franklin Thompson (Republican)
17 Personal/Political	I should be driven 50% by research; 25% by my beliefs, and 25% by the testimony of the public.	18 Political decisions My answer is "yes" I am motivated by my faith. There are times, however, where I must separate church and state.
20 Abortion/capital punishment	I am pro-life. I believe unwanted pregnancies should be given up for adoption. I believe a fetus in the womb should be protected by the Constitution.
21 Past President	Political Party was my least consideration. I look at what the person has to say. I also look at whether or not the person can balance understanding the signs of the times, along with having the ability to encourage, teach and lead. I don't like people who trash traditions, but I also don't like people who are in denial of change.
22 Anything else?	I don't make a claim to be a perfect person or a wise man. I only claim to be a good person who is willing to listen. I am also a person who understands a hundred shades of gray. This is both a gift and a curse at the same time. It gives me a tremendous amount of freedom and insight, but it also makes me an enemy to both Black and White, Democrat and Republican, straight and gay, educated and uneducated, etc. I have been this way since age 6. I strongly believe our salvation lies in the "critical middle." I don't believe that everything traditional is bad or unusable. I believe too many people are unwilling to compromise. I also believe that possessing the truth is not good enough. You must have both truth AND a meaningful process to communicate it to the people who don't understand or see it. What good does it do to champion a truth, while leaving a trail of blood behind and fostering the very counter-revolution that you are attempting to fight against?
